The Wilmington Area Local Section of ANS Presents:

How to teach your Mom about Nuclear Power

Jeff Hren

Senior Services Project Manager
GE Hitachi Nuclear Energy

In a prior life, Jeff Hren was responsible for implementing training programs in the Navy Nuclear Program. In this event, Jeff will be teaching participants about using an understanding of how most people receive information and think (Metacognition), focusing on the most effective ways to make a lasting impression on the listener. We will discuss together the importance of listening as a tool for influencing as well as the mental processes of encoding and retrieval and what they mean to the presenter of information. This practical and entertaining seminar will make you better equipped to make an impression on others with your unique ideas.

The event will include an exercise on teaching nuclear concepts effectively (with full participation from attendees).
